About the Digestive Disease Institute

The Cleveland Clinic Digestive Disease Institute (DDI) unites all specialists within one unique, fully integrated model of care – aimed at optimizing the patient experience. This helps us offer the most advanced, safest and proven treatments, performed in the most effective and patient-friendly way. This includes shorter waits for appointments and more seamless interactions with all of our specialists. Our institute model enhances opportunities for cutting-edge research and physician education.

Our institute includes:

- bariatric surgery
- colorectal surgery
- gastroenterology and hepatology
- general surgery
- human nutrition
